Journalists are invited to experience a demo of the technology and meet b<>com and its demo partner, Awiwest, a Haivision company, at the show or arrange an online briefing at your convenience.

*Dome* is a technological solution that meets the many challenges of 5G in terms of security, the Internet of things, latency, saturation, and network flexibility.

*Dome* for broadcasting:

It enables the deployment of 5G ephemeral radio coverage at remote broadcast production sites, and the retransmission of images captured by cameras, microphones, in-ear monitoring systems, lighting etc, to live production studios.

*Dome* also allows for the manipulation of audio/video streams on site, or from outside broadcast sites. The technology enables the use of wireless cameras and microphones.

b<>com Networks and Security Director Mathieu Lagrange said: "We propose wireless solutions for private networks that are fully software-based, and fit perfectly into our customers' existing IT infrastructures. *Dome* allows broadcasters incredible flexibility without any loss of broadcast quality."

Book your slot to experience lab-fresh demos and meet the experts behind the latest broadcast technology.

You can meet the b<>com team at IBC in the French Pavilion in hall 2, stand 2.B39 or arrange an online briefing at your convenience.
